

We didn't get another deer until _____, so with the scraps I made _____ square run breath fall under grab big pockets for food gathering. One _____ in front of me, and the _____ down my back. hung very need only other this They were joined _____ straps. This device worked beautifully. in part by

Sometime _____ July I finished my pants. They _____ well, and were the best-as will in grant heat fit looking _____ I had ever seen. I was _____ proud of them.
needles pants down only my terribly

With pockets and _____ tough pants I was willing to _____ home many more mean down good pack rest tomorrow new foods to _____. Daisies, the bark of a poplar _____ that I saw a squirrel eating, mash try front swing good tree _____ puff-balls. They are mushrooms, the _____ ones I felt were safe to on but and nearly in only _____, and even at that, I kept _____ to die the first night I _____ them. I jump but eat greeting heat waiting ate smelled good didn't, so I enjoyed _____ from that night on. They are _____. Mushrooms are they them to ended be wonderful dangerous and I would _____ suggest that one eat them from _____ forest. The not in be but an the mushroom expert at _____ Botanical Gardens told me that. He _____ even he didn't eat an from the jumped said rest wild ones.

_____ inner bark of the poplar tree _____ like wheat kernels, and so I The A Expert believed tasted me _____ as much as I could and _____ it into flour. It was tedious _____, smelled in dried fired the pounded work be new and in August when the acorns _____ ready, I found that they made _____ flour and is found were no him better were much easier to _____.

jump kindly handle

I would bake the acorns in _____ fire, and grind them between stones. _____ was an the believe This Rest That tedious work, too, but now _____ I had a home, and smoked _____ and did not have to this end that help plants venison hunt _____ every minute, I could do things _____ make flour.

food work do as would like