Support Excellence in Music Education and Performance

www.usm.maine.edu/music/friend

The USM School of Music has come to be recognized by many throughout the northeast and beyond as the strongest and finest university music degree-granting program north of Boston. Its influence throughout the region is well established; its reputation for excellence in education and performance, renowned.

A committed and professional faculty and staff serving enthusiastic students supported by you, the community, has led the USM School of Music to tremendous accomplishments. In return, the music school has expanded its outreach programs where its faculty and students share their talent and expertise through leadership and participation in countless community-based music activities.

Continued success is on the horizon and will be assured with the renewed support of our loyal patrons and the establishment of support from new friends. Your contribution will make a difference. Please become a "Friend."
