Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton: For Seniors, by Seniors ▶▶▶

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton (UDLLI), now in its tenth year, offers seniors from the Greater Miami Valley the opportunity to join other active seniors in a variety of informal discussion seminars.

UDLLI members meet once a week with an informed moderator, usually a senior, to study a topic of their choice for their own satisfaction. They join in seminars for the enjoyment of reviving a long-neglected interest, exploring a new field or topic, satisfying curiosity and interacting with others.

Seminars meet for one and a half or two hours, usually just once a week. The four-to-eight-week courses are designed to fit personal schedules that may include travel, volunteer activities and other commitments.

Eligibility ▶▶▶

You are eligible to join UDLLI if you are 50 years of age or better, or if you are the spouse of a member. UDLLI welcomes you, whether or not you have attended college in your youth. Your interest in learning and willingness to take part in seminar activities are the only requirements. No tests or term papers are involved!

Membership ▶▶▶

The program fee is $60 per term. This entitles you to participate in as many seminars as you wish to schedule. (Spouses also pay the fee.) Some seminars require purchasing a book or miscellaneous supplies. Some seminars require an off-site fee. (Individual course descriptions contain this information.)

As a member of UDLLI, you will receive a distinctive UDLLI name tag. These are distributed once a year and should be worn during each class session, so that your name becomes familiar to the moderator and to others in the class. You are encouraged to wear your name tag whenever you are on campus, since it identifies you as a part of the University, and at the same time draws the attention of others to the UDLLI program. Please note that normal distribution of name tags is on an annual basis. You are encouraged to retain that identification from one semester to another, so that the issuance of duplicate tags is not necessary.

UDLLI members, identified by their name tags, are welcome to use the Roesch Library and various other campus facilities and services, including the Adult Student Study Lounge in Kennedy Union 309, the Barrett Dining Room in Kennedy Union and the lounge in the McGinnis Center. Also available to UDLLI members is the Physical Activities Center (PAC). Admission fees may be paid by the visit or by year-long membership. Members regularly receive announcements of other programs, seminars and events on campus, and encouraged to attend, thus taking advantage of the variety of educational opportunities the University has to offer. The UDLLI bulletin board in the McGinnis Center carries announcements of such activities.

MONDAY CLASSES ►

Ancestors Among Us

McGinnis Center

9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

April 4 - May 9

Moderator: Dave Vickers

Who are your ancestors? Do you know them? Do you realize what influences they have had on you now? How do you find them? Where do you look? This seminar will introduce participants to the fascinating study of family history and describe steps that can be taken to learn more about your family's ancestors.

Class length: 6 weeks

Dave Vickers is associated with the authoritative Genealogical Library of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Fairborn and has lectured widely on getting started in genealogy and pursuing family history in depth.

Negro League Baseball

McGinnis Center

9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

April 4 - April 25

Moderator: John Palcher

Revisit the stars of Negro league baseball. Many players made a major impact on the major leagues beginning in 1947. Who were some of the stars? Who did they play for? What cities had teams? We will try to answer as many questions as possible. A number of these players have made the Baseball Halls of Fame (Kansas City and Cooperstown).

Class length: 4 weeks

Class limit: 20

John Palcher is married to Aurelia and has two children. He has a BS/BA degree from Pittsburg State University in Pittsburg, Kansas. He did MBA work at Southwest Missouri State and East Texas State University. He has researched baseball for 52 years. He also has a collection of 39 historical baseball video tapes and a library of 60 plus books on biographies of major stars, on history and statistics.

Paths Towards Understanding Social Justice

McGinnis Center

9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

April 4 - May 9

Moderator: Stanley Blum

In the world today, we are confronted with fundamentally differing beliefs about what is right and what is just. These differences lead to a divisiveness among nations and indeed even within communities and families. In this six week class, we will examine the historical, philosophical, religious, political and secular beliefs and experiences which impact individuals and groups as they struggle to define justice. We will then look at how these influences apply to our daily actions, both personally and politically.

Class length: 6 weeks

Stanley Blum has been involved in teaching and counseling both groups and individuals in the Dayton Public Schools for 34 years. He has had extensive work with emotionally and behaviorally disturbed children as an Educational Therapist for the Child Guidance Clinics in Dayton, Xenia and Richmond, Indiana.

The Human Brain and Human Cognition

McGinnis Center

12:30 - 2:30 p.m.

April 4 - May 9

Moderator: Paul Tibbetts

“How does the biological tissue which comprises the brain give rise to the activities our culture refers to as the mind”? How can three pounds of electric sponge produce the experience of awe, memory, recognition and a sense of self? What happens in our brain as we age to explain Alzheimers and other diseases of the mind and cognition? These and related issues will be explored in this six-week course. Intended for an audience that is deeply curious about how brains make possible our cognitive and emotional lives.

Class length: 6 weeks

Paul Tibbetts is a full time professor at UD in the Department of Philosophy. His area of research is the cognitive neurosciences.

BookShare: The Question of God: C.S. Lewis and Sigmund Freud

McGinnis Center

12:30 - 2:30 p.m.

April 4 - May 9

Moderator: Violet Lavigueur

This course is based on the PBS documentary “The Question of God: Sigmund Freud and C.S. Lewis” with Dr. Armond Nicholi, Harvard professor, director of classes on the question of God. He explores issues that preoccupy all thinking people today. What is happiness? How do we find meaning in our lives? How do we cope with suffering and the inevitability of death? These questions are explored through the lives and insights of Freud and Lewis. The four hour tape will be presented in short segments followed by class discussion, terminating in the twelve hour total allotted time for this course.

Class length: 6 weeks

As a Civil Service employee, Violet Lavigueur worked mainly with the Indian Service on reservations in the Northwest and in Veterans Administration hospitals throughout the country. Now retired, she is a frequent participant at Elderhostels, UDLLI and Great Books programs throughout the U.S.

Chess

McGinnis Center

3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

April 4 - May 9

Moderator: Thomas Mahlmeister

This seminar is an introduction to the game of chess. The basic moves of this game will be discussed. An introduction to web sites to help the player with his or her game will also be given.

Class length: 5 weeks

Class limit: 16

Thomas Mahlmeister received a BEE from the University of Dayton in 1957. He also has a PE from Ohio and Arizona Universities. After 43 years, he retired from NCR. He currently works as a tutor at Holy Angels Elementary School in Dayton.

Fingerpicking the Mountain Dulcimer

McGinnis Center

3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

April 4 - May 9

Moderator: Joni Sines

This six-week course is a continuation of the one from the winter program. It will further explore both right and left-hand techniques with an emphasis on the finger-picking style of playing. Text may be purchased from the instructor at the first class. The class is open to all intermediate dulcimer players even if they did not take the previous two sessions. If you own a music stand or tuner please bring it to class.

Class length: 6 weeks

Class limit: 15

Joni Sines is part of the folk group AbNormal Sines. She has been teaching and performing with the mountain dulcimer for over 15 years, not only in the Dayton area, but also at festivals throughout Ohio, Tennessee, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. She has written 6 books on how to play the mountain dulcimer, and has recorded “Green and Growing” with AbNormal Sines. She has been teaching at UDLLI since Fall 1997.

Foreign Policy in the Second Bush Administration: Aims and Prospects

McGinnis Center

3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

April 4 - May 9

Moderator: Philip Skardon

Six weekly sessions of two hours each will be offered in these areas:

- 1) A brief history of American foreign policy, with emphasis on the post-World War II period to the present;
- 2) Theories relating to war and peace, for example, the nature of a just war;
- 3) A comprehensive examination of current U.S. policy;
- 4) The U.S. foreign policy community, including mainly the National Security Council, the CIA, and the State and Defense Departments;
- 5) Principal international institutions with which the U.S. interacts (the UN, NATO, and the European Community),
- and 6) A consideration of options to current policy, especially regarding the Middle East, with a forecast for the near and medium terms. Each session will begin with a presentation by the moderator that will be followed by extensive discussion of key issues involving all participants.

Class length: 6 weeks

Class limit: 25

Philip Skardon is a graduate of Yale University, Class of 1949 and received honors in Western European history. He worked for the National Committee for a Free Europe, in New York City, which was the parent organization of Radio Free Europe, as an editor, and European affairs. He is also a former president of the Dayton Council on World Affairs and in that capacity, as well as others, spoke at many local groups on foreign-policy issues. He recently completed a book-length treatment of the Hungary-Suez Crisis of 1956 (the Hungarian Uprising coupled with the Suez Canal crisis), which he dealt with when at the CIA. Foreign policy has been his enduring interest.

TUESDAY CLASSES ►

Tragedies in Shakespeare

McGinnis Center

9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

March 29 - May 3

Moderator: Brother Alex Tuss

The course examines Shakespeare's development as a writer of tragedy. The course will examine Romeo and Juliet, Hamlet, and MacBeth in particular to identify and discuss Shakespearean tragedies. Please read Romeo and Juliet before the first class. The Norton Shakespeare is recommended.

Class length: 6 weeks

Class limit: 20

Bro. Tuss has been a professor at UD since 1991. He teaches Shakespeare each term. He also coordinates the Stratford festival tour.

Personal Security

McGinnis Center

9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

March 29 - May 3

Moderator: Jeff Mitchell

This seminar will focus on two important areas of our lives; Personal Safety and Identity Theft. The Personal Safety seminars will concentrate on the precautions we should consider when conducting our normal day-to-day business and travel. How we present and protect ourselves may prevent us from becoming the prey of those who wish to harm us. The seminars will provide tips and strategies on protecting our homes and ourselves. Identity theft is no longer an unusual occurrence. According to a September 2003 survey by the Federal Trade Commission, 27.3 million Americans have been victims of some form of identity theft within the past five years, including 2.2 million in 2002 alone. Consumer victims reported $5 billion in out-of-pocket expenses. These two seminars will address; how identity theft occurs, how to tell if you are a victim of identity theft, managing your personal information, what to do if your identity is stolen, and more.

Class length: 6 weeks

Jeffrey W. Mitchell is currently a Sergeant with the Lebanon Division of Police, Lebanon, OH, and has held positions with that department as a patrol officer and detective. A former special agent, Air Force Office of Special Investigations, he has extensive experience in conducting felony criminal, fraud, and counterintelligence investigations. Sgt Mitchell has an Associates Degree in Criminal Justice, Bachelor of Science Degree in Organizational Management, and a Masters Degree from the University of Dayton in Public Administration. Sgt Mitchell is an adjunct instructor at the Ohio Police Officers Training Academy, London, OH.

Innovation. Ignite Your Potential

McGinnis Center

9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

March 29 - May 3

Moderator: Dorothy Hitchcock

Innovation. Ignite your potential. Let's put feet on your ideas. Expand your horizon.

The class will become the "UDLLI Think Tank" as you learn how to use: Robert Barthelemy's "Idea", Olaf Helmer's "Delphi technique" and Alex Osborn's "Applied Imagination." From this, we will become a team of right and left brain thinkers to see things that others miss.

These techniques will provide the class with resources to assist each other to move forward so that your idea is relevant and executable. They will also pique, arouse and capture your interest. Results oriented, this seminar will be approached with fun and humor! This is a follow up to "Creativity: awakening your potential." However it is not a prerequisite.

Class length: 6 weeks

Dorothy Hitchcock has a BA from Denison University and a MA from Central Michigan University. She was a newsletter editor for Creativity 80's a nonprofit group dedicated to innovation, creativity and leadership. She was one of the founding members of the Dayton Inventor's Council and co-chair of their first "Mind to Marketplace" 2 day workshop. Dorothy is one of the Dayton Daily News Ten Top Women.

Woody Allen and (Some of) His Movies

Science Center 328

9:30 – 11:30 a.m.

March 29 - May 3

Moderator: Ben Rice

In this seminar we will view and discuss some of Woody Allen's earlier movies, with a relatively narrow focus on his philosophic ideas as they evolved in his films. We begin with a discussion of two nonfilmic works: "Mr. Big" (1973) and a one act play "God" (1975). Then we will view and discuss the film "Take the Money and Run" (1969), followed by films chosen from "Bananas" (1971), "Play it Again Sam" (1972), "Sleeper" (1973), "Love and Death" (1975), "Annie Hall" (1977), "Interiors" (1978), "Manhattan" (1979), "Stardust Memories" (1980),

"Midsummer Night's Sex Comedy" (1982) and "Zelig" (1983).

Class length: 6 weeks

Ben Rice is Professor of Mathematics at UD where he taught for 40 years. He co-authored 25 college level textbooks and in 1978 was named UD's Professor of the year. He moderated two movie related seminars for the UDLLI.

Silent Movie Comedians Part II

Miriam Hall 209

9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

March 29 - April 19

Moderator: William Schneberger

We will take a trip back to the time of silent movies. Viewing such stars as Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, Buster Keaton, Harry Langdon, Harold Lloyd, Laurel & Hardy and Charlie Chaplin. Find out about Mack Sennett, and Hal Roach, and their part in silent films. Also a couple of silent movies made in the 1960's and 1970's. There will be lectures on biographies of the actors and directors. The story of the transition to "Talkies" will be discussed. Part of the class time will be taken by watching DVDs and VCRs of the silent comedy movies. Be prepared to do some laughing!

Class length: 5 weeks

William Schneberger has been a moderator for UDLLI since 1995. He has been a musician since 1945 and the leader of the Hauer Music Swing Band since 1986.

Industrial Endeavors

Carillon Park

9:30 – 11:30 a.m.

March 29 - April 19

Moderator: Alex Heckman

Participants in this course will learn about many of the industries and companies that made Dayton a world-renowned center of manufacturing. The course will feature artifacts from the extensive collection of Carillon Historical Park, with a special emphasis on Dayton's printing, automotive, aviation, cash register and bridge-building companies. A guest speaker, printed materials, audiovisual presentations, and a live demonstration of 1930's printing equipment will enhance the discussions. Some walking will be involved.

Off-site fee: $5.00

Class length: 4 weeks

Class limit: 25

Alex Heckman is the Education Director of Carillon Historical Park. He is a Dayton history enthusiast, a former National Park Service Ranger, and a former historical interpreter. Alex has been interviewed by and appeared on the History Channel and the Travel Channel. He is also the author of several Park booklets.

Weather Related Emergencies

McGinnis Center

12:30 - 2:30 p.m.

March 29 - April 19

Moderator: Margaret Carroll

In this seminar, four local authorities will offer valuable, lifesaving information and resources related to his/her field of expertise. Scheduled presenters include Steve Prinzivalli (WHIO Weather Department), Fan O'Shaughnessy (Dayton Chapter, American Red Cross), Mark E. Gebhart, M.D. (Wright State University School of Medicine), and Rob Gunner (Montgomery County Federal Emergency Management Agency). Since this region has experienced tornadoes, floods, blizzards, and other natural and human-made disasters, including accidents and disease conditions, this vital information may help us deal with personal and community survival and recovery.

Class length: 4 weeks

Margaret is serving on the UDLLI Board of Governors and is a member of the curriculum committee.

The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich

McGinnis Center

12:30 - 2:30 p.m.

March 29 - May 3

Moderator: Felix Weil

Examine the coming to power of Adolf Hitler beginning with the end of World War I and the Treaty of Versailles in 1919, starting through the Weimer Republic (1919 - 1933) and Hitler years (1933 - 1945) with special emphasis on the Holocaust and Anti-Semitism in Germany. Felix Weil speaks on his early years in Germany recalling his experiences living under the Nazi regime.

In addition, there will be a field trip to the Holocaust Exhibit at the Air Force Museum and a 76-minute documentary video.

Class length: 6 weeks

Felix Weil was born in Frankfurt, Germany in 1927 and lived with his family until August 1939 when he was placed on a "kindertransport" bound for England, never to see his family again. He came to the United States in 1945, and in 1946 was drafted in the U.S. Army and sent back to Germany for occupation duty. He graduated from Kent State University in 1950 and has lived in Dayton ever since. His career was in commercial art business. He lectures both in the U.S. and Germany on the Holocaust.

Martin Luther Yesterday and Today

McGinnis Center

12:30 - 2:30 p.m.

March 29 - May 3

Moderator: Mike Hout

Martin Luther was not an African-American who was heavily involved in the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s. Martin Luther was an influential man of the 1500s who still affects us today. We will discuss Luther's life and legacy from a Lutheran pastor's perspective at a Roman Catholic institution.

Class length: 5 weeks

Class limit: 25

Mike Hout is an ordained pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. He graduated from Capital University in 1975 and Trinity Seminary in 1979. He has served five parishes and currently is the pastor at St. Jacob Lutheran in downtown historic Miamisburg.

Glimpses of the Civil War

McGinnis Center

3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

March 29 - May 3

Moderator: Richard Carlile

This class will focus on certain selected topics of the Civil War, the bloodiest war in American history. Topics will include "Ohio in the Civil War," "Major Campaigns," "The Battle of Gettysburg," "Photography and the Civil War" and others. While generally not for the serious Civil War historian, this class will cover both known and little-known aspects of the war.

Class length: 6 weeks

Rick Carlile is a prominent Dayton attorney with Thompson, Hine & Florey, a Civil War collector, and serves on the advisory board of the University of Dayton Law School.

Irish Identity in Literature and Film

McGinnis Center

3:00 - 4:15 p.m.

March 29 - April 19

Moderator: James Farrelly

This course will focus on Irish identity as it is portrayed in literature and film of the 20th century. Films will include "Waking Ned Devine," "Angela's Ashes," and "In America"; Frank McCourt's "Angela's Ashes" will also be read and can be purchased for $10.50 at most major bookstores.

Class length: 4 weeks

Jim Farrelly is a professor of English and teaches courses in Irish literature, Irish drama, and popular literature. He is currently teaching a course on Irish and Film and welcomes the opportunity for UDLLI participants to piggyback on that course and learn a good deal about Irish identity.

A Study of Traditional Jazz

McGinnis Center
3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

March 29 – May 3

Moderator: R. Peter Finke

The course will review the history of traditional jazz (commonly called Dixieland Jazz) from its beginnings in New Orleans. A great deal of the course will be spent listening to jazz recordings, some as early as 1920. The musicians who pioneered or contributed to traditional jazz will be discussed as well as their bands. Moderator will share personal experiences he has had with jazz.

Class length: 6 weeks

R. Peter Finke is a law partner at Nolan, Sprowl, Smith & Finke. He graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1959 with a degree in accounting. He then obtained his CPA in 1960. Mr. Finke continued his education with an MBA from Xavier and a JD from Chase College of Law.

WEDNESDAY CLASSES ►

John Milton's Paradise Lost

McGinnis Center
9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

March 30 - May 4

Moderator: Lorayne Mundy

Paradise Lost is an epic poem of the rise and fall of Satan, Adam, and Eve, and Milton's account of an omniscient God who watches mankind fall, then offers him a way back to paradise. Though many hesitate to plunge into such a lofty work, this course will attempt to demystify the language, focus on some of the most famous and interesting characters in history, and look at how even the structure of Milton's work helps you better understand his tale. Is Satan really the antagonist? Is Eve really the cause of mankind's fall? Was Milton really a puritanical chauvinist, or an avant-garde feminist? Was God really being fair? How does numerology fit into Milton's scheme? Did you know Milton was blind when he wrote this tale? Milton was a politically active poet and was almost exiled for his defense of Charles I. Was there a clash between traditional religious views and his politics? The book, Paradise Lost by John Milton should be read before the first class.

Class length: 6 weeks

Lorayne Mundy is a recently retired civilian/DOD for the USN. Lorayne spend 23 years purchasing planes and equipment for Foreign Military Sales (FMS). Lorayne has traveled extensively in Europe, Middle East and Far East. She has over 400 college credits in Acquisition Logistics and FMS and received the Meritous Medal in 2003.

A House Filled with Words

McGinnis Center
9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

March 30 - May 4

Moderator: Daniel J. Meixner

During my childhood, my mother often claimed that there were so many words floating around our house from her five children that she had to bag them up and store them in the attic. (Store the words, not the children.) Today, as a parent, I find the same dynamic in my household. During this interactive course, participants will discuss, debate, and laugh about being parents and grandparents - and talk about helping their grown-up children deal with marriage, parenthood, career, faith, and life. Often, emotion overrules logic and history triumphs over reality as adult children strive to maintain independence from their family of birth and parents work to continue involvement in their children's lives. We'll learn from each other what works and what is guaranteed to add many more words to the attic.

Class length: 6 weeks

A Fulfilling Life

McGinnis Center
12:30 - 2:30 p.m.
March 30 - May 4
Moderator: James Cash

In the 19th Century thousands of people flooded into the Midwest. Many of them had a Jeffersonian dream of working as independent farmers. The key is that they thought they were achieving something - getting somewhere. Today we are many generations from that yet there is every indication that we still need to have the feeling that we are achieving something - getting somewhere. Abraham Maslow cites a hierarchy of needs ranging from basic physical to spiritual needs and ultimately self actualization. Our class will discuss what is a fulfilling life today and in the future.

Class length: 3 weeks

James B. Cash is an author from Kettering. He has moderated a wide variety of courses at UD. The idea for this course came from his next book.

Sorting Out the Hype in Nutrition Advisory

McGinnis Center
12:30 - 2:30 p.m.
March 30 - May 4
Moderator: James Ramsey

This seminar is an effort to straighten out many misguided concepts that comprise the many advisories confronting us with respect to nutrition and its effect on health. Mob psychology has been instrumental in introducing and maintaining dietary practices that have gained a strong foothold despite non-supportive evidence--controversial dietary practices that are confusing to many, to say the least. In the meantime, we face an unprecedented epidemic of obesity with its counterparts of diabetes, heart and artery disease, hypertension, stroke, and elevated risks of cancer. It's time for a closer look!

Class length: 6 weeks
Class limit: 30

James Ramsey is Emeritus Professor of Biological Sciences at the University of Dayton. During his 28 years at UD, he taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and mentored dozens of premedical students (many of whom now practice medicine in the Dayton area). He has published numerous research papers from his laboratory, written a textbook (1982), and received the annual Faculty Award in Teaching (1983).

Jesus and Contemporary Experience

McGinnis Center
12:30 - 2:30 p.m.
March 30 - May 4
Moderator: Bro. Hugh Bihl

This course considers the central issues in a Christian theology of Jesus Christ- Jesus "Abba" experience, the Kingdom of God, the Incarnation, the death and resurrection of Jesus- and relates them to contemporary experiences and questions. Elizabeth A. Johnson's book Consider Jesus is required for the course. The book can be purchased at the UD Bookstore or through the Amazon.com website.

Class length: 6 weeks
Class limit: 30

Bro. Hugh is a Marianist Brother who has taught Christology in many settings-in a deacon formation program, to African American students at Xavier University of New Orleans and for many years, to seminaries in Naivobi, Kenya.

Five Rivers MetroParks Story

MetroParks Adventure Central
12:30 - 2:30 p.m.
March 30- May 4
Moderator: Charles Shoemaker

This seminar will introduce participants to the area's nationally recognized Five Rivers MetroParks system. The first session will be held at MetroParks Ranger Headquarters. At this meeting, Charles Shoemaker, Executive Director of Five Rivers MetroParks, will lead a discussion on the history of the park system, why and how it was established, how it is funded, and a "vision of the future" of the park system. In addition, MetroParks rangers will explain the role of rangers and lead a tour of their headquarters. Following the initial session, participants will visit a different MetroParks location each week to sample the diversity of MetroParks. Locations include: Possum Creek, Germantown, Wegerzyn Gardens, Taylorsville, and Aullwood Garden. A list with dates for each site visit and maps/directions to meeting locations will be available at the first meeting. Dress comfortably and for the weather as outdoor tours will take place at many sites.

Class length: 6 weeks
Class limit: 30

Charles Shoemaker is the current Executive Director of Five Rivers MetroParks and has been with the agency for 25 years in various capacities. A graduate of Ohio State University, class of 1974, he has been a resident of the Dayton Area since 1964.

A Scientist in Search of God: From Maimonides to Einstein

McGinnis Center

12:30 - 2:30 p.m.

March 31 - May 5

Moderator: Stuart Fickler

The defining theme was given by Albert Einstein: "Science without religion is lame; religion without science is blind." The context is centered on a scientist's quest to bring his intellectual and spiritual nature into harmony. The four major areas of focus are: a brief review of the historical relationship between science and religion, an examination of Maimonides' effort to formulate divine science in the 12th century and its current divine implications, a survey of the religious positions of Einstein and others, speculation concerning the growing complementary relationship between religion and science in our time.

Class length: 6 weeks

Dr. Fickler holds a PhD in theoretical physics, directed an internationally recognized research group, and has published in elementary particle theory and in the theory of relativity. He has taught at Syracuse University and the University of Cincinnati. He is an active participant at the Chabad Center of Greater Dayton where he has submitted articles related to his spiritual quest. He has lectured and provided workshops to many churches and synagogues.

Believe It and You will See It

McGinnis Center

12:30 - 2:30 p.m.

March 31 - May 5

Moderator: John Kordick

Men and Women...feel young at heart! Put more life into your life...become aware of your greatness! This Seminar explores how to feel good about ourselves. We are what we think! We'll find that humor and feeling good go hand in hand; that positive thought and subconscious mind power play an important role in our self-esteem. Mind/body connection, "happy" thoughts, making friends, affirmations and visualizations are a few of the topics to be presented. You are great and powerful in this world; you are a gift to the world; you are unique! You make a difference; you are a gift to the world! We will explore the miracle of ourselves. Life is for living! It is better to wear out than rust out.

We will relax and feel good. This seminar continues to evolve with added material each program series.

Class length: 6 weeks.

John Kordik is a public speaker, moderator/facilitator, past president and 12 year past member of Megacity Toastmasters International. He gives 12 to 15 talks to various local groups, such as prayer groups, widows and widowers, support groups, young peoples groups, T.O.P.S. group, etc. each year This is his 16th series of lectures for the UDLLI.

Epiphany Lutheran Church
1:00 - 2:30 p.m.

March 31 - May 19

Moderator: Dolores Anderson

Learn the fundamentals of handbell ringing in a recreational setting. We'll play songs in the very first session! Music reading is helpful but not essential. Experience a variety of handbell techniques and work with "beginner friendly" music scores. The goal is to make music together as an ensemble of eight to thirteen ringers.

Class length: 8 weeks

Class limit: 13

Class fee: $6 due at first class

Handbell Ringing "Beyond the Basics"

Epiphany Lutheran Church
3:00 - 4:30 p.m.

March 31 - May 19

Moderator: Dolores Anderson

This class is for people who have some ringing experience who wish to explore new techniques such as "shelly" and "four in hand" while playing a variety of bell positions. We'll also experiment with a variety of inviting and entertaining music arrangements in a recreational setting without performance pressure.

Class length: 8 weeks

Class limit: 13

Class fee: $6 due at first class

Dolores Anderson has music degrees from Northwestern University and a music therapy degree from UD. She has over 20 years experience with handbells and handchimes. As a music therapist, Dolores has written a series of 14 books for use with handchimes that music therapists and music educators use with populations who do not read music at all. These books allow people to play the melody lines of songs and chordal accompaniments. She leads weekly music therapy handchime groups in area nursing homes and is director of a performing group at Bethany Lutheran Village.

Sage-ing Circles

McGinnis Center

3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

March 31- May 5

Moderator: Jerry and Carol Bourne

In the Native American culture, an elder circle is a gathering place for the adults of the tribe to listen, reflect, and contribute their life experience. A Sage-ing Circle™ applies that concept to adults who meet regularly to address growth issues in the second half of life from a place of maturity and wisdom. By the year 2006, there will be approximately 113 million Americans who will be 60 years old. Tapping in to the untapped potential of this population presents unique opportunities for both the individual and society at large.

In this class, Sage-ing Circle™ participants will explore the how "to's" of positive aging in an interactive format. Using methodologies of Whole Brain Synchronicities, Multiple Intelligences, Integrative Learning, and neurolinguistic programming, participants can tap into their roles as wisdom-keepers, mentors, agents of evolution, and healers of the planet.

This class is Part I of a two-part program. Part II will be presented at some future date.

Class length: 6 weeks

Class limit: 20

Carol has a BS and MA from the University of Dayton. She is a retired high school teacher, Reiki practitioner, and certified sage-ing leader. Jerry is a graduate of Xavier University. He is a retired industrial trainer and Carnegie instructor. Together, they have moderated several classes at the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Dayton, taught at the McGregor School of Antioch University, facilitated grief groups, and do volunteer work at Hospice of Dayton, Inc. They practice their conscious aging work throughout the community.

Financial Planning and Investments in the New Economy

McGinnis Center

3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

March 31- May 12

Moderator: Lou Lunne

The days of just putting your nest egg in a safe place and forgetting about it are gone. Whatever the stage of life or level of resources, the individual or couple today has to be an investor in the truest sense of the word. This educational opportunity is designed to enable participants to gain a higher confidence level and learn how to actually enjoy the role of investor. The moderator will lead the group through basic principles of financial planning and investments with emphasis on key factors in analyzing stocks, bonds, mutual funds and annuities.

Class length: 7 weeks

Class limit: 20

Lou Lunne received his BS from the University of Dayton and his MBA from Xavier University. He has over 30 years of experience in the financial services industry, and is a financial advisor with American Express.

In Memory Of . . .

McGinnis Center

3:00 - 5:00 p.m.

March 31- May 5

Moderator: Gayle Reed

Where do seniors go today to find out how to take responsibility for a loved one when they become terminally ill and then die? How do they cope with the multitude of questions and decisions they have to make about health care, finances, legal affairs, and finally funeral arrangements?

In Memory Of is a six week course that will highlight each of the four major responsibility areas listed above. We will go over the Caregiver's Checklist (cost not to exceed $7.50), have outside speakers come and share their expertise in these areas, and conclude with a sample memorial service.

Class length: 6 weeks

Class limit: 20

Gayle Reed is the founder and co-director of In Memory Of, a for profit business to help families create personalized services for their family members and loved ones.

Keeping the "Gold" in Your Golden Years - How to Prepare for Changes in Your Retirement

McGinnis Center

9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

March 31- May 6

Moderator: Joseph P. Mattera

Retirement brings about changes in many areas of our lives. In order to prepare for these changes, each of us must plan. There are many "pieces" to the planning puzzle. Part of the plan is assuring that our legal affairs are in order, and our assets are protected and safely invested. Another part of the plan concerns our living arrangements. Another concerns healthcare issues, and how to afford the high cost of healthcare. This program analyzes some of the "pieces" in order to provide you with information you need to work with your professional advisors on your plan.

Class length: 6 weeks

Joseph P. Mattera, Esq., is an attorney in private practice in the Dayton, Ohio area. Over the past 17 years, he has focused his practice on trust and estate administration, estate planning (with particular emphasis on elder law issues), and real estate. He is a member of NAELA, the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys, the Ohio State Bar Association (member Elder Law Committee; Estate Planning, Probate and Trust Section), and the Dayton Bar Association (Estate Planning, Probate and Trust Committee). Mr. Mattera has published articles on various estate planning topics. He conducts seminars on estate planning and elder law issues.

Participating: Participating in a UDLLI seminar automatically makes you a UDLLI member for the current academic year. Each participating member enrolled in any one semester of the academic year may vote at the Annual Meeting of UDLLI, where new members of the UDLLI Board of Governors are nominated and elected and other business is conducted.

Friends of the Institute: Individuals, corporations, community organizations and local governments interested in supporting UDLLI's goals of scholarship and enrichment may join the Friends by contributing $50 or more per year to the program. Each Friend has one vote at the UDLLI Annual Meeting. Volunteer seminar moderators and speakers also become Friends for the academic year in which they volunteer. In recognition of their service and as a gesture of the UDLLI's gratitude for that service, moderators and their spouses may participate in other seminars during that same year at no charge.

Life Membership: Life memberships are open to individuals who contribute $1,000 or more to the University of Dayton's Lifelong Learning Institute. Life Members receive all membership privileges and may enroll in UDLLI seminars at no fee.

Interested persons may review the UDLLI By-Laws, on file in the Special Programs and Continuing Education Office in O'Reilly Hall on the UD campus.

Attendance ►►►

In fairness to members who are closed out of a particular seminar, if you cannot attend the first class session, you must notify Special Programs and Continuing Education (the UDLLI Office) at 229-2347 or you will automatically be dropped from that seminar. Please do not attend a seminar if you have not been notified that you are registered in that seminar since each classroom has a specific limit.

"Anyone who stops learning is old, whether twenty or eighty. Anyone who keeps learning today is young. The greatest thing in life is to keep your mind young."

- Henry Ford

Parking Information ►►►

UDLLI has a shuttle bus service for members attending seminars on the main campus or at the McGinnis Center. Service will be provided from a secure parking lot at the UD Arena to the McGinnis Center and the main campus on a regular schedule. You will receive details about the shuttle service with the packet confirming your registration. Parking at the McGinnis Center has been reduced significantly by the construction of ArtStreet, a two-year project bringing living and learning together for students in the neighborhood.

A portion of the parking lot at the UDLLI Arena will be dedicated to LLI members. The Arena lobby will open to UDLLI members at 8:30 a.m. for the short wait for the next shuttle bus. However, please note that UDLLI members will have to leave the lot by 6 p.m. when the lot will close. There will be no overnight parking permitted at the UD Arena lot. Buses will take members from the UD Arena parking lots to the McGinnis Center. From there, the buses will go up University Circle and drop members off near St. Mary's Hall, return those heading to the parking lot, and begin the route again. Buses will adhere to a schedule built around UDILR classes to minimize waiting time.

Currently, members do not need to purchase permits to park during the day in the UD Arena parking lot or to ride the shuttle. To obtain a complimentary parking/shuttle permit, check the box on the registration form. You will receive your parking/shuttle permit with your registration confirmation. Along with your confirmation, you will receive a map showing the location of the UDLLI lot at the UD Arena.

Parking/shuttle permits will be honored on the UD campus after 4:30 p.m. during the week and anytime on the weekends.

Please note that all campus parking facilities are controlled by the University of Dayton Parking Services Department.

If you have any questions for the Parking Services Office, it is located in Benisek Hall, 229-2128. UDLLI cannot assume any responsibility for citations for illegal parking. Parking citations are the responsibility of the member.

If you have a State handicapped license plate and/or a State sticker, UD Parking Services Department wants you to have a "Special" Parking Permit. If you have specific questions about handicap facilities or need further information about parking, please call Special Programs and Continuing Education at 229-2347. You may want to arrive early, especially the first week, to give yourself plenty of time to find parking at the Arena, catch the shuttle bus and find the location of your classroom.

The RTA has many stops near the University of Dayton campus and offers discounts to seniors. Call the RTA Ride Line at 226-1144 for more information about routes, fares and schedules.

Spring Inspiration

An afternoon of presentations, workshops, and reflective nature walk
Saturday, April 9, 2004, 12:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.

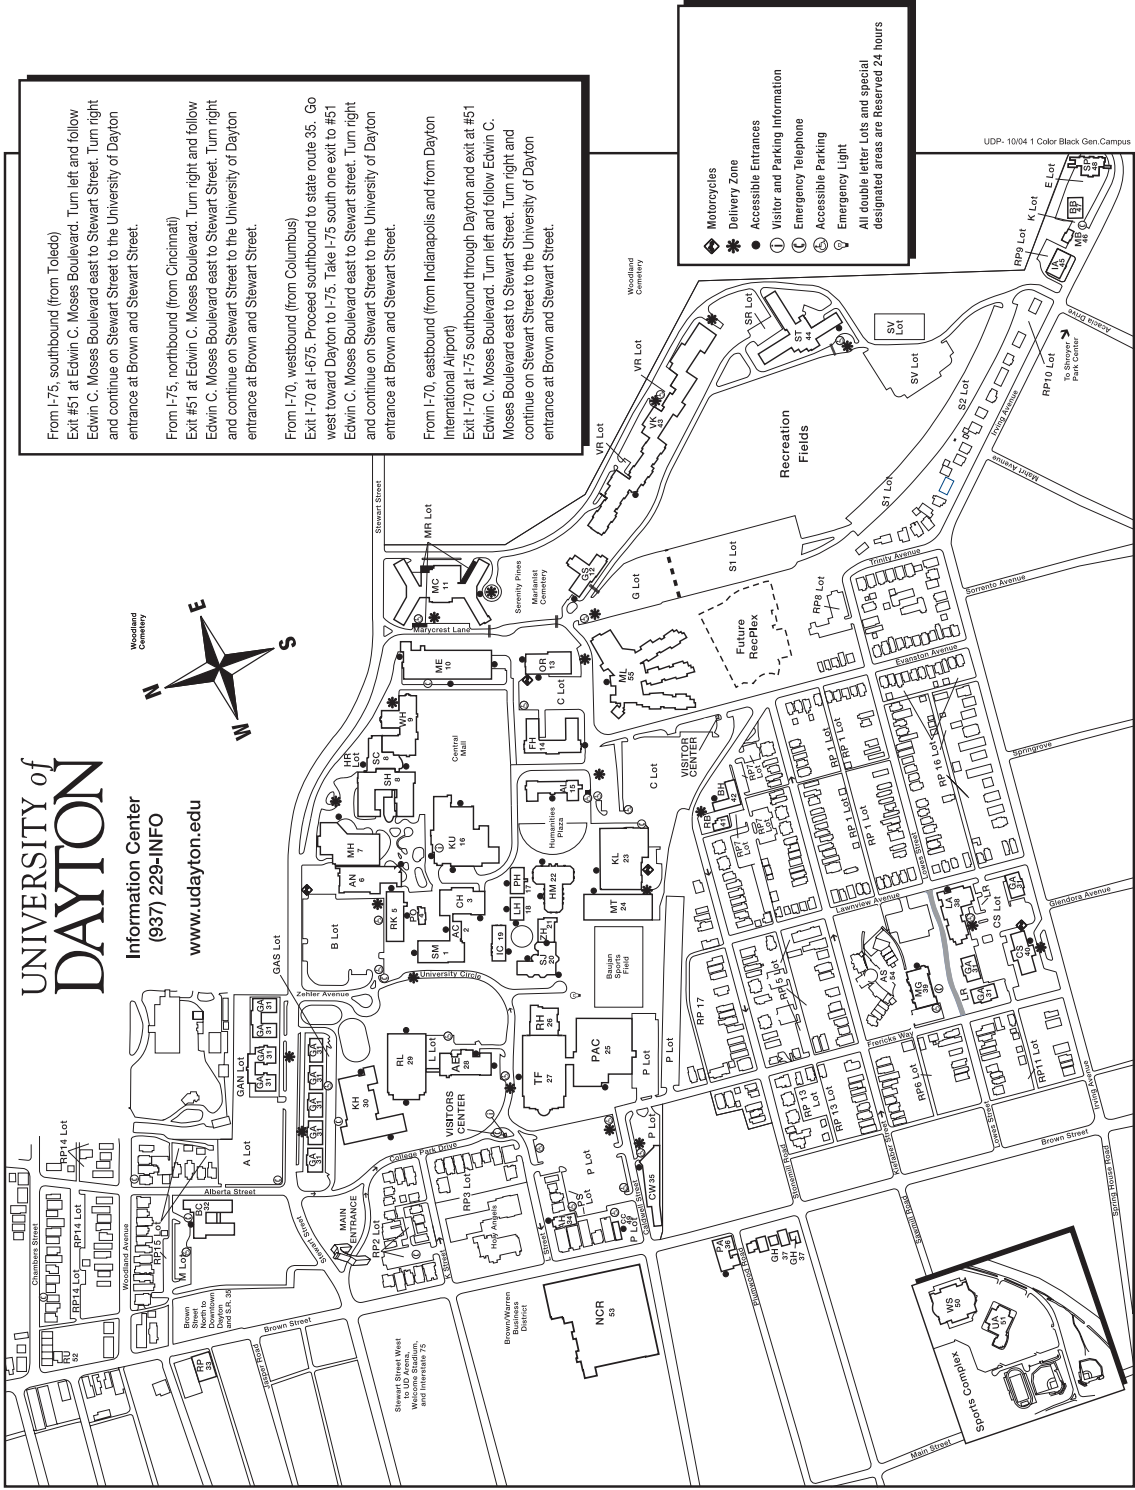

Marianist Environmental Education Center At Mount St. John, 4435 East Patterson Road

The biology of the natural world and the rhythm of the seasons can provide lessons to inspire our spiritual journey and holistic living. Explore the beauty of autumn in the peaceful setting of Mount St. John. You can design your own program from the concurrent workshop offerings by MEEC team members and popular UDLLI facilitators. Indoor and outdoor options will be available. There will be a special discounted registration fee for UDLLI members. Discover nature's inspiration through the Gallery St. John show, wildlife in spring and presentations fostering bio-diversity and earth ethics. Keynote: The Dance of Spring Workshops: Guided woodland wildflower walk, Conservation landscaping with native plants, Praying with nature through art and reflection, and Herbal History: From Native Americans & Shakers to today.

Early registration deadline April 1.

Travel Abroad Opportunities 2005

Ghana, West Africa: A Cultural Odyssey

With Donna Cox and Mark Brill

May 14 to May 29 ***

From the moment you set foot on Ghanaian soil, you will be immersed in the vibrant culture. For fourteen days you will explore five of Ghana's rich cultural regions. From the capital city of Accra to the home of Ashantis, Ewes and Fantis, you will experience Africa in all its sensual texture.

Encore Vienna

With Linda Snyder and Edward Hatch

May 30 to June 14 ***

Romantic . . . glorious . . . lovely . . . fascinating . . . unforgettable. Travelers are unanimous in their praise of Vienna, Salzburg, and Prague. These enchanting cities have a way of charming their visitors and lingering in their fondest memories. We know. They call us back year after year.

The Emerald Isle

With Barbara and James Farrelly

August 4 to August 15 ***

Caed mile failte — “a hundred thousand welcomes” await you in their “little bit of heaven” known as Ireland. Embark on an exciting, eleven-day journey through the Emerald Isle with homebases of Dublin in the East and Galway in the West. Slainte (“Cheers”)!

Beautiful Bavaria

With Linda Snyder and Edward Hatch

September 26 to October 10 ***

Imagine yourself in Munich, Salzburg, visiting fairy tale castles, charming walled-cities, elegant palaces, beautiful alpine meadows, peaks and lakes, and other famous sights on Germany's Romantic Road. That's Beautiful Bavaria! And it's scheduled to coincide with the last days of Munich's Oktoberfest and the beginning of its fall opera season.

Other Senior Programs at UD

Senior Fellows

If you are sixty or better, you can become a UD Senior Fellow. Membership in the Senior Fellows program includes the privilege of attending any two classes for which you meet the prerequisite — graduate or undergraduate — each term on an audit basis. (Books and special fees are extra).

Elderhostel

Each summer, UD hosts people from throughout the United States and sometimes Canada. They come to Dayton to live on campus for one week and experience Elderhostel at UD.

Elderhostel is an educational program for senior adults who want to continue to expand their horizons and to develop new interests.

New Horizons Band

Learn to play music in a band as a senior adult — even if you have no musical experience!

Playing music is a special joy and it will help you maintain mental and physical health. It is also a way of experiencing life: playing music from the past keeps us in touch with those feelings; daily practice keeps us active in the present; and striving for new goals attaches us to the future. One band member describes it as serious fun.

As a member of the New Horizons Band, you will meet new friends and work with them as a team to learn music for concerts and other performances in the community. New Horizons ensembles typically perform many times each year in venues ranging from formal concerts to shopping malls to parks to retirement and nursing homes.

The UD New Horizons Band offers adults, 50 years of age and better, the opportunity to begin a musical instrument or provides a re-entry point for those who have been away from active music making for many years. Instruments taught include flute, oboe, bassoon, clarinet, saxophone, trumpet, French horn, trombone, baritone, tuba and percussion. Lessons will be taught in like-instrument groups once a week for 30 minutes.

How to Register for UDLLI Seminars ►►►

You can register for UDLLI seminars using the Online Registration at www.pware.com/2394, or by completing and mailing the Registration Form. Prior to February 28, registrations will be accepted by mail, fax, and drop off. Online registrations will be available at www.peopleware.net/2394 after March 7. Telephone registrations will be accepted after March 15. However, we encourage you to register early as we expect seminars to fill quickly. (If fewer than ten persons register for a seminar, it may be cancelled.)

Participants are registered for seminars in the order in which their registration is received, so sign up early. All seminars have a limited number of participants due to limits set by the moderator as well as classroom size limits. If you register, but are closed out of any seminar(s), you will be automatically put on a waiting list for that class and will be notified by the Special Programs and Continuing Education Office if an opening occurs.

Your $60 fee for the Fall term entitles you to take part in as many seminars as you wish to schedule. Payment for seminars is due at the time of registration. If you use Online Registration, a bill will be mailed with your confirmation letter. Check or money order should be made payable to the University of Dayton. The deadline for refund of the $60 registration fee is March 22. After that date, refunds are not possible but substitution of participants is always acceptable.

A confirmation letter will be sent to you after we receive your registration, providing information about the location of your seminar(s) and our UD shuttle service.

Questions? Call the Special Programs and Continuing Education Office, 229-2347.

If you receive more than one brochure, please pass it on to a friend.
