

Now is a great time to join the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute

2005 will be an exciting time to join with more than 900 like-minded, Portland-area older learners who are members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute, known as OLLI, at the University of Southern Maine. Here are just a few reasons why:

- One Book/One Community is an opportunity you don't want to miss. The idea is for all members of our learning community to read the same book and come together to discuss the book and participate in an event just before OLLI's spring semester begins. We're reading Edward A. Myers' Turnaround: Musings on the Earth's Future.
- Now by popular demand...Saturday courses! With the commencement of the Spring 2005 term, OLLI will offer Saturday classes on the USM campus in Gorham to accommodate those who are still working either at paid or volunteer jobs during the week. The courses will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. beginning Saturday, March 19th. In addition, OLLI will offer more than 30 classes on Fridays on the Portland Campus of USM. Registration for the spring term begins December 20th.

*$25 annual membership fee covers the current fiscal year through June 30th
